

Boundless Joy – Official Bio

Boundless Joy is a powerhouse rock trio hailing from Oregon, uniting veteran musicians Sean McLeod, Robert Keith, and former White Zombie drummer Ivan de Prume. Formed in 2021, the band delivers an electrifying fusion of heavy metal, alternative rock, and funk, carving out a bold and unmistakable sound defined by crushing riffs, infectious grooves, and unrelenting energy.

Their debut album, released in April 2023, showcases the band's explosive chemistry across eight dynamic tracks, ranging from the anthemic “Cloak of Shadows” to the bone-rattling intensity of “The Last Triangle.” The record pulses with raw emotion and technical firepower, earning them a loyal following and critical praise across the Pacific Northwest and beyond.

Boundless Joy continues to release new music, pushing their sound even further with each drop. Their latest single, “forgetmeknot,” blends haunting melody with heavy groove, highlighting the band’s evolving artistry and emotional depth.

Since their debut, Boundless Joy has lit up stages with their high-voltage live performances, turning every show into a visceral, full-body experience. Whether channeling classic rock swagger or diving into the deep end of modern metal, the band’s sound is uncompromising and unforgettable.
